Payday and auto title businesses in Texas offer two main loan types: single payment loans, due in full in 2 weeks or 1 month, and installment loans, due in a series of payments over a period of up to 6 months. Longer loan terms mean installment loans have fewer refinances, but even higher fees.

- In the Fort Worth MD, refinances make up 64% of single payment loan transactions.
- On average, installment borrowers paid $1.16 in fees for every dollar borrowed.
- Across all four loan types, the average cost to repay a $500 loan with no refinances is $585 to $1,089. For borrowers who refinance, the average cost to repay a $500 loan can reach over $3,000. Average APRs for payday and auto title loans in the Fort Worth MD range from 214% to 502% (see table on back).

Installment Payday Loans are Top Fee Driver with Over 50% of Total Fees
The dollar amount of new loans decreased by 4%, while refinances increased by 8% and fees by 29%. An increase in the number of refinances of installment payday loans was the primary reason for the higher fees. Though the annual percentage rate for installment payday loans decreased from 2014 to 2015, from 429% to 413%, an increase in loan terms coupled with higher numbers of refinances among borrowers who refinanced the loans led to an 81% increase in the fees charged per dollar borrowed, from $0.64 in 2014 to $1.16 in 2015. Depending on the loan terms, fees for one installment loan are often the same as fees charged for 5 to 12 single payment loan transactions.
